RULES 19TH EDITION/2022

PREMIO INTERNACIONAL DE COCINA
CON ACEITE DE OLIVA VIRGEN EXTRA
JAÉN PARAÍSO INTERIOR

Prize

A Prize of €8,000 and a plaque will be awarded to the winner.

The Prize will be funded by the budgetary account 2022.742.4390.48900.

This Prize is compatible with any other subsidies, grants, deposits or resources from any public or private, national, EU or international public administrations or entities that may be awarded to the recipient following the bestowing of this award.

Award dynamic and process

The competition will consist of a first round, in which the eight recipes will be selected that will go through to the final round.

In the eliminatory first stage, all of the applications will be assessed. To do this, the Judges will act in accordance with the following assessment criteria:

1. The recipes are prepared with the olive oils selected from the latest Jaén Selección 2022 Tasting Competition. The combination of the olive oil with the ingredients used in the recipe will be assessed.
2. The recipes shall be practicable and understandable, in the opinion of the Judges.
3. The presentation and innovation of the dish will be assessed, as well as the correct use of each ingredient in the different stages of its preparation.

The final round of the competition will take place live in front of the Judges and an audience, and will be held during the course of San Sebastián Gastronómica (hereafter SSG) on a day to be specified between the 3 and 5 October 2022. The eight chefs selected in the first round will take part in the final.

The draw that decides the order of participation of the finalists will be done in the presence of the individuals involved prior to the start of the final round.

In the final round, the judges will evaluate the flavour and appearance of the prepared dishes and the finalist chefs' skills in the kitchen.

Each finalist will create one serving for each of the Judges plus one more to show to the media and audience present.

The finalists will have 1 hour to create the recipe and will not be able to have a helper to assist them in creating the recipe.

The organisation will provide the logistics and support that each chef needs to create the recipe in the competition.

The oils used in preparing the recipe will appear exclusively in the bottles of each of the brands used.

Finalists must wear suitable professional clothing. The organisation will provide an apron with the Competition logo for each of them.

When presenting their dish, the finalists must explain the ingredients used, the techniques employed, the pairing of the chosen oils and, in general, everything that enables the Judges to apply the established criteria.

The SSG organising body will cover the accommodation costs for the finalist chefs, as well as facilitating their stay in SSG, and will expect them to take part in the scheduled activities.

The Provincial Council will provide the transport to and from the place of residence for each of the finalists participating in this final stage. This contribution will be made via the credit from contract CO-2020/1589, budgetary application 2022.410.9200.22699.

Judges

The composition of the Jury for each of the two phases will be as follows:

- The Representative Delegate for Promotion and Tourism, who will act as President.
- A representative of the organization of San Sebastián Gastronomika.
- The winner of the 18th edition of the International Prize for Cooking with Extra Virgin Olive Oil "Jaén Paraíso Interior".
- Five chefs of recognized prestige or media representatives specializing in gastronomy.
- A technician from the Promotion and Tourism Area, who will act as Secretary.

The names of the judges of each of the two stages will be established via a decision by the President of the Provincial Council of Jaén, which will be published in the Official Gazette (Boletín Oficial, BOP) of the Province of Jaén at least five days before each of the stages of this competition. None of the Judges will receive any financial recompense for their participation.

The members of the Judging Panel may change at any stage.

The actions of the Judges will be regulated under article 17 of Law 40/2015, of 1 October, on the Legal System applicable to the Public Sector.

The panel of judges for the final round will put forward a winner in accordance with the award criteria contained in this call for entries, within a period of 15 days following the final stage of this competition. The proposed Decision of the judges will be passed to the competent body of the Provincial Council of Jaén for it to be awarded in the month following the issuing of the proposal by the judges. The Prize will be declared void only in the event of a unanimous vote from the Judges. Otherwise, the panel of judges is obliged to put forward its winner.

In exceptional cases, the decision may differ from that proposed by the Judges, in which case the reasons for the decision must be stated in the competition documentation. The decision will be published in the BOP and in accordance with the provisions of article 45 of Law 39/2015, of 1 November, on the Common Administrative Procedure of the Public Administrations.

As regards the recipes, the Council may reserve the rights of publication, retransmission, broadcasting or recording via any system, and may freely and exclusively sell and transfer the aforementioned rights, without limitation, to any person or entity, free of charge. To this end, application for entry will entail the granting of the above-mentioned rights.

The prize will be handed to the winner, who must sign the corresponding document containing their personal details, the amount of the prize and the tax deductions that must be made by law, among other considerations.
